

①

A group of performers in traditional Tibetan opera costumes are performing on a rocky shore. The background features a large blue lake and snow-capped mountains under a blue sky with white clouds. The performers are wearing elaborate, colorful costumes with long sleeves and traditional hats. One performer on the right is seated, playing a large drum and a stringed instrument. The scene is vibrant and captures a moment of cultural performance in a natural setting.